ARCHBALD REPORT COMES UP TODAY

House Will Consider 13 Impeachment Articles Against Judge

SOME DIFFERENCE IN SENATE

Many Senators Would Defer Trial of Jurist Till After Elections—While Some Desire Immediate Consideration

Washington, July 8.—A sharp difference along political lines has developed in the Senate over the proposed impeachment of Judge Robert W. Archbald, of the Commerce Court. Many Senators, including influential Republicans, favor deferring the trial until after the November elections, contending that ample time should be given to prepare for the hearing of the impeachment charges and that many Senators are needed at home to look after their political fences.

Other Senators, among whom are Senators Simmons, Bailey and Reed, all Democrats, urge that impeachment proceedings are of such high privilege that they should be taken up as soon as the House shall prefer the charges, irrespective of the personal comfort and conveniences of Senators.

The 13 articles of impeachment, each an accusation, were presented to the House today with the announcement that their consideration tomorrow would be demanded. Speaker Clark emphasized the solemnity of the proceedings by securing the undivided attention of the House while the articles were being read by Representative Clayton, of Alabama, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, which unanimously reported them. Mr. Clayton dwelt on the gravity of the charges. The committee's report and resolution calling for the impeachment were ordered printed and distributed to members without the voicing of a single objection.

It constitutes the ninth impeachment of a judicial or civil official of the United States since the foundation of the government and is the first since the impeachment of Judge Charles Swayne, of the Northern district of Florida, who was acquitted on February 27th, 1905.

"The conduct of this judge has been exceedingly reprehensible and in marked contrast with the high sense of judicial ethics and probity that generally characterize the Federal judiciary," the committee said, in summing up its findings of mibehavior in office against Judge Archbald.

His business transactions while a judge on the bench were held to unfit him for further service on the bench and a resolution was presented impeaching him and holding him for trial before the United States Senate. "Your committee is of the opinion that Judge Archbald's sense of moral responsibility has become deadened," says the report. "He has prostituted his high office for personal profit. He has attempted by various transactions to commercialize his potentiality as judge. He has shown an overweening desire to make gainful bargains with parties having cases before him or likely to have cases before him. To accomplish this purpose he has not hesitated to use his official power and influence. He has degraded his high office and has destroyed the confidence of the public in his judicial integrity. He has forfeited the condition upon which he holds his commission and should be removed from office by impeachment."

Tomorrow Chairman Clayton will present a resolution providing for the management of the trial before the Senate. The full committee designated Chairman Clayton, Representatives Floyd, of Arkansas; Davis, of West Virginia, and Webb, of North Carolina, Democrats, and Representatives Norris, Nebraska; Sterling, Illinois; and Howland, Ohio, Republicans, managers, to prosecute the Archbald trial before the Senate. The report was made the business for immediate consideration tomorrow. The charges against Judge Archbald set forth in the 13 articles of impeachment range from his business transactions with actual and possible litigants in his court to a trip to Europe, which it was charged, was given the judge by Henry W. Cannon, a railroad magnate and financial power in New York. Favoritism to a railroad litigant was also included in the charges and in the 13th count of the indictment under the heading "General misbehavior of Judge Archbald," the committee reviews charges and found that Judge Archbald "grossly abused the proprieties of his said office of judge, was guilty of misbehavior and of misdemeanor in office."

Accompanying the article of impeachment Chairman Clayton presented a brief to show that the action of Judge Archbald described as "misbehavior" came within the purview of the constitutional provision for impeachment which enumerates "treason, bribery or other high crimes and misdemeanors."

The penalty provided in successful impeachment cases is removal from office and may include a bar from ever holding any office of trust of honor again.

T. R.'S FORCES IN CONFERENCE

Republicans Meet In Greensboro and Decide to Submit Question of Taft Or Roosevelt's Nomination to People

Greensboro, N. C., July 8.—Republican leaders in the State, who were active in the recent campaign in support of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, held a conference here this afternoon for the purpose of agreeing on some plan of concerted action regarding the course to be taken by the Republican organization in North Carolina on the question of retaining their party regularity while voting for Roosevelt electors as against Taft electors. The conference was the result of a recent call by National Committeeman Richmond Pearson. A majority of the delegates from this State to the recent Chicago convention were present.

Following the conference, ex-Senator Butler stated that it was unanimously agreed upon to submit the question of Roosevelt's rightful nomination to the Republican precinct primaries, when delegates are selected for the State convention which will likely be held in August. This was presented in the following resolutions which were adopted:

First. "That we cannot endorse the action of the recent National Republican convention at Chicago, or recognize such action as binding upon the allegiance of Republicans.

Second. "We favor the submission of the issue as to which is the rightful nominee, Taft or Roosevelt by way of referendum to the precinct primaries throughout the State."

The resolutions bind the two factions to abide by the action of the next State Republican conventions and call for instruction binding the 12 electors to be chosen by the convention to vote for Roosevelt for President, "as the rightful and only legitimate candidate of the party for the Presidency."

North Carolina, it was stated, will not be officially represented at the Roosevelt convention in Chicago, the State convention being held after it has convened. A number of Roosevelt supporters, however, declared their intention of being present at the Chicago convention. Committeeman Pearson stated that by reason of today's action the question of Roosevelt or Taft in this State would be clearly up to the people. He claims sentiment among Republicans of the State is 10 to one for Roosevelt and declares Rosevelt supporters will be in control of the State convention.

Committeeman Pearson with ex-Senator Butler left tonight for Morehead City to hold a conference tomorrow with State Chairman John M. Morehead.

Thirty Leaders Present.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Greensboro, N. C., July 8.—Under a call from National Committeeman Pearson, of Asheville, Roosevelt Manager Waller, of Lexington, Secretary Person, of Charlotte, of the Roosevelt organization, and other prominent Roosevelt supporters, about 30 leading politicians assembled in conference here this afternoon to agree upon some plan of concerted action regarding the course to be taken by the Republican organization in North Carolina on the question of retaining their party regularity while voting for Roosevelt electors as against Taft electors. The first to arrive was ex-Senator Marion Butler, who came last night direct from Washington, and who was the chief actor and advisor in the executive conference held this afternoon. Among other later arrivals were V. C. Lusk, of Asheville; W. N. Pearson, of Charlotte; James Williamson, of Alamance; Dr. Person, of Wayne; Bailey, of Nash; ex-Congressman Wilkes McGuire, of Surry; Walter, of Davidson, and a few others from surrounding counties. The session was strictly executive and upon adjournment at 6 o'clock Senator Butler and Committeeman Pearson reported that the meeting was entirely harmonious. It was unanimously agreed to submit the question of Roosevelt's rightful nomination to the Republican precinct primaries when delegates are selected to the State convention. This was presented in the form of the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

"1. We cannot endorse the action of the recent National Republican convention at Chicago, or recognize such action as binding upon the allegiance of Republicans.

"2. We favor the submission of the issue as to which is the rightful nominee, Taft or Roosevelt, by way of referendum to the precinct primaries throughout the State.

"3. We will abide by the action of the next Republican State convention, based on instructions given in such precinct primaries.

"4. We favor instructions to the 12 electors to be chosen by the State convention binding them to vote for Roosevelt for President as the rightful and only legitimate candidate of the party for the Presidency."

Butler and Pearson leave tonight for Morehead City to have a conference with State Chairman Morehead, who telegraphed he would be glad to see them. The State convention will probably be called for August 15th; that was the general opinion here, and it was further stated that it would be held in Charlotte or Greensboro.

Butler stated that many of the conferees here this afternoon were delegates at Chicago and were in the convention which declared Roosevelt was the nominee. Pearson said that he was not in this convention because he was too busy with other matters. Butler says he will be a delegate to the State convention and has no doubt but that Roosevelt delegates will predominate there in the ratio of 16 to 1. Some of those present expressed themselves as sure to attend the Chicago convention called for August to form the National Progressive party under Roosevelt's leadership, but Pearson and Butler declared that the attending ones would not be present except as individual Republicans. While all seemed harmonious, it is known that two present at the conference this afternoon urged cutting loose from the Republican National organization and sending delegates to Chicago.

There was plain disgruntlement expressed by several at the apparent domination of Senator Butler.

NOTED CAMORRISTS ARE FOUND GUILTY

Criminals Who Have Been on Trial for Two Years Are Sentenced

PANDEMONIUM BREAKS LOOSE

DiMarinas Cuts His Throat and Other Prisoners Start Demonstration—All the Leaders Get Thirty Years

Viterbo, July 8.—The Camorrists who have been on trial for nearly two ed Gennara Cuocolo and his wife in years on the charge of having murder-June, 1906, were today adjudged guilty in varying degrees. The verdict declares Corrado Sortino guilty of both murders; Nicholo Morra. Antonio Cerrato and Mariano Di Gennaro guilty of the murder of Cuocolo, and Giuseppi Salvi guilty of the murder of Cuocolo's wife. Enrico Alfano, the alleged leader of the Camorrists, Giovanni Rapi, Di Marinas and the others are convicted of being instigators of the crime and members of the criminal organization. The president of the court immediately sentenced the condemned men. Sortino, Merrato, Salvi, Morra, Di Gennarro, Alfono, Rapi and Di Marinas were sentenced to 30 years imprisonment and to 13 years police surveillance each; Di Mattio to 10 years and six months imprisonment and 10 years surveillance; Ascrittore to 10 years imprisonment and three years surveillance; Vitozzi, the priest, to seven years imprisonment and two years surveillance, the other to five years imprisonment and three years surveillance.

When the accused men were placed in the iron cage to hear the verdict, Di Marinas suddenly drew forth a piece of glass and cut his throat. He fell to the floor in a pool of blood and general pandemonium broke loose. The other prisoners screamed like wild animals, shouting invectives and imprecations.

Papi shouted: "This innocent blood is crying for revenge." Alfano raged around and recalled his brother's death, who, he cried was a victim of justice and man who had suffered the martyrdom of innocence.

Vitozzi knelt weeping and praying. All the prisoners acted like maniacs, and the carabineers had difficulty in forcing their way into the cage to maintain order and carry out the wounded Di Marinas.

The pronouncement of sentence was received with uproarious protests from the condemned men. One of them shouted: "We are innocent. This is legal assassination."

Some of them shook their fists at the judge and others tore at the bars of the cage. They attempted in concert to harangue those assembled in the court.

In addition to the police and carabineers within the building a battalion of troops with fixed bayonets was drawn up outside. It was feared that some attempt might be made to rescue the prisoners.

Di Marinas is in a serious condition. The glass with which he attempted suicide, severed an artery, which was tied, but Di Marinas, the moment he was left alone, tore off the bandage and reopened the wound. Surgeons again dressed his injuries, but the wounded man declared that he was determined to die.

The verdict as a whole proved somewhat of a surprise, and all are agreed that the severity of the sentences is the last blow to the Camorra which has practically been annihilated since the arrest of its leaders.

FOR CORN CLUB WORK.

State Agents Offer Bust of Dr. Knapp for Best Showing.

Washington, July 8.—Plans for continuing the corn club work in the South have been completed by the State agents in charge of the work, at a meeting here. A bronze bust of Dr. Seaman A. Knapp, founder of the corn club work, was offered by the agent for South Carolina to be presented to the Southern State making the best showing each year through its boys and girls corn clubs.

The first award of the bust will be made at the National Exposition School for boys to be held in connection with the National Corn Exposition in Columbia, S. C., January 27th to February 8th, 1913. Two boys will be sent to the school from each county in the South.

EDUCATIONAL MEETING OPENS

Reports Submitted to National Convention Show Deplorable Conditions In Rural Schools—Federal Aid Desired

Chicago, July 8.—Reports submitted today to the National Educational Convention which opened its 50th annual convention here said that of the 20,000,000 school pupils in the United States 12 million were being educated in rural schools and that only one-third of the country boys and girls were making a satisfactory showing.

Thomas H. Harris, State superintendent of schools of Baton Rouge, La., declared the condition of the rural schools was becoming so deplorable it was time for the Federal government to provide both money and methods to remedy the situation.

"The Federal interference with State control of schools should be set aside in the interest of the rising generation," said Mr. Harris.

"National supervision of country schools is an absolute necessity. Our country needs a better educated rural citizenship."

Mr. Harris left it to the convention to decide what steps should be taken to induce the Federal government to lend assistance. A special committee appointed to investigate the subject will agree upon field workers to travel over the country in the interest of country schools.

Meetings of active members by States were held today to select members of the nominating committee which is to report to a full meeting of the active members on Wednesday when officers are to be selected.

The active members at that time probably also will be asked to consider criticisms made at the directors' meeting today concerning the reports. The charges were presented in President Pearse's annual report that Mr. Shepard's records were not being kept according to the by-laws. Mr. Shepard declared he was attempting to rid the association of "fake" members and prevent "stuffing" of the rolls, which he said was done at the Boston convention two years ago when Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, of Chicago, was elected president.

Mrs. Young told the directors she had been treated "like a 16-year-old school girl," and if the association adopted Mr. Shepard's work, every school teacher in Chicago was justified in suing the association for slander.

HEAT CAUSES MANY DEATHS

Eleven Die In Philadelphia and Three In Boston

Philadelphia, July 8.—Eleven deaths were reported to the coroner here today as being due to the excessive heat. Prostrations were numerous. The maximum temperature for the day was 95, which was recorded at 3 P. M. This is the fifth day of the present hot wave and the local forecaster tonight said that no permanent relief is expected for 36 hours.

Boston, Mass., July 8.—Three deaths and twenty-five prostrations due to heat were reported in greater Boston today. For the sixth consecutive day the official thermometer registered over 90 degrees, the maximum being 94.

OUTLINES

The House will begin consideration of the Archbald impeachment report today, it being made immediate business yesterday. There is some political difference in the Senate as to the time for beginning the trial.

It became known yesterday that a movement had been started to petition President Taft to withdraw as the Republican nominee in the interest of party harmony. If the movement gains any volume Roosevelt will also be asked to compromise.

Former Judge Robert S. Hudspeth told Governor Wilson yesterday he could not accept the National enairmanship in the event he were selected and it is thought now that the Democratic nominee will undoubtedly select Wm. F. McCombs for the place.

Leaders in the Roosevelt campaign in this State met yesterday in Greensboro and decided to submit the question as to who was the rightful nominee of the party to the Republican voters.

Reports read yesterday before the National Educational Association in session at Chicago showed deplorable conditions in rural schools.

Senator Fletcher, of Florida, severely arraigned Roosevelt yesterday while speaking in defense of Senator Lorimer.

The American team at Stockholm won more laurels yesterday, carrying off all three places in the 800 metres race and breaking world's records.

The Camorrists who have been on trial at Viterbo, Italy, for two years, were yesterday adjudged guilty in varying degrees. Pandemonium broke loose when the accused men heard the verdict.

WILSON'S CHOICE MAY BE M'COMBS

His Closest Rival, Robert S. Hudspeth, Can't Accept the Chairmanship

NUGENT CALLS ON NOMINEE

Governor Wilson and Recent Political Foe Clasp Hands for First Time in a Year—Field Day for Jersey Men.

Seagirt, N. J., July 8.—Former Judge Robert S. Hudspeth, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee and member from New Jersey, asked Governor Wilson this afternoon to erase his name from the list of those from whom the Governor will make his choice for National chairman. Judge Hudspeth afterwards told the reporters that he wanted William F. McCombs, the recent Wilson campaign manager, to have the position. Judge Hudspeth's action removes from the race, the Governor's close friends assert, Mr. McComb's most formidable rival.

"It would be impossible for me to devote my whole time to the office, and this would be required," Judge Hudspeth declared. "I would willingly serve in some other capacity, were I asked, in which I could give part of my time to my private business interests."

Judge Hudspeth said he would convey to the National Committee a message from the Governor. He thought it likely that the National Committee would open a Western office either at San Francisco or Denver.

The Governor and James E. Nugent, his recent political foe in Essex county, clasped hands this afternoon for the first time within a year. Mr. Nugent came down with the New Jersey delegates and alternates to attend a luncheon to which the entire delegation had been invited by E. E. Grosscup, Democratic State chairman.

Former Senator James Smith, Jr., who also worked against Governor Wilson's candidacy, received his invitation too late to come, according to a telegram of regret sent by him to Mr. Grosscup for the first time.

Governor Wilson appeared only in the role of host. He greeted Mr. Nugent courteously and then passed on.

It was a field day for Jersey men. They brought along a couple of mayors, half a dozen representatives, including Messrs. Hughes, Kinkaid, Hamil and Townsend, from this State, a sheriff or two and 500 of the rank and file.

Representative Hughes made an appointment with the Governor to meet Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor and several members of the Federation's executive committee tomorrow in Trenton.

"This has been to me a very delightful day," Governor Wilson said tonight, "because the New Jersey men came in such force and showed such genuine and generous enthusiasm. Moreover, there were so many old and tried friends among them that I was able to get all sorts of useful counsel and information from them. I was made to feel during the day how thoroughly the working force of the State was behind me."

In addition to the Jersey men and several New Yorkers, W. H. O'Brien, State auditor of Indiana, headed a delegation of four who congratulated the nominee.

There was unlimited speculation and little else, concerning the course the nominee would take regarding the Governorship of New Jersey. Judge Wescott, of Camden, and Mr. Hudspeth advised him not to resign until about inauguration day.

Senator Gore, of Oklahoma, and the Governor conferred for an hour today. At the end of the conference the Oklahoman dictated a formal statement in which he said that the Democrats "united and battling as one man under Wilson's leadership" faced a divided foe, and would win in November.

"We have a chieftain who is not revolutionary on the one hand nor reactionary upon the other," he said. "He simply embodies the real spirit of progress. I cannot say too often—I want this to go down—that Governor Wilson is wise enough to know that 'too swift arrives as tardily as too slow.' There are but few States that are on the impossible list in this campaign. The Democrats are organizing and conducting a vigorous thoroughgoing campaign."

Anent the National chairmanship, Senator Gore said: "The chairmanship is a question that rests exclusively with the Governor and I do not wish to embarrass the situation by any suggestions. I have no doubt that all Democrats on the committe and off the committee will rest entirely satisfied with his selection."

Dead tired, the Governor went to bed at 9 o'clock tonight. He plans to go to Trenton tomorrow.

Chairman Mack Calls on Wilson.

Seagirt, N. J., July 8.—Norman E. Mack, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, held a long conference tonight with Governor Wilson, during which the loyal support of the organization in New York was pledged to the Governor and detailed plans of the coming campaign were discussed. Mr. Mack told the Governor that the Tammany leaders were going to fight for him, "just as if they had to get out and do so."

The chairmanship of the new National Committee was the topic of a long talk. Mr. Mack said on leaving the Governor's cottage that he had conferred with the Governor also regarding the desirability of appointing a campaign manager to co-operate with the National chairman in directing the campaign.

"We did not get down to names," Mr. Mack added, "but I did suggest to the Governor that it would be well to appoint a Western man as campaign manager if his choice for National chairman had been an Easterner. I also told him that over in New York we were planning to get out and make a real campaign just as if we had to fight instead of being confident, as we are, of the result.

"There is no doubt about the outcome in New York. In my opinion Roosevelt will hurt the Republican party 90 per cent., and the Democratic party 10 per cent."

Mr. Mack was non-committal concerning the Governor's probable choice for chairman of the National Committee.

FLETCHER ARRAIGNS TEDDY

Attack on Colonel Roosevelt by Florida Senator Featured the Defense In The Lorimer Election Case Yesterday

Washington, July 8.—An attack upon Theodore Roosevelt for condemning Senator Lorimer, of Illinois, featured the defense in the Lorimer election case in the Senate today. Senator Fletcher, of Florida, following up the conclusion of Senator Dillingham's speech for Lorimer, arraigned Roosevelt.

"Theodore Roosevelt could enjoy a luncheon with Booker Washington at the White House," declared Mr. Fletcher, "but could not afford to dine in the same room with Mr. Lorimer, a member of the club of which he was a guest."

The Florida Senator referred to the former President as the "headquarters of morality," who condemned Lorimer on the false allegations repeated to him by Editor H. H. Kohlsaat, that $100.000 had been raised and used to elect Lorimer. Senator Fletcher said that Colonel Roosevelt did not know then and had not since taken the trouble to become acquainted with the facts.

"The damning of a respectable citizen, the head of a beautiful family, the representative of a State in high office," said Senator Fletcher, "was a welcome thing if it gave opportunity to attitudinize as the standard of honor and righteousness and the acme of civic virtue. He is the man aspiring for the highest honors of the country and on his flamboyant arrival in Chicago on the 15th of last month, engaged in the frantic effort to nominate himself for a third term, made a speech in which he denounced his opponents on the Republican National Committee as "tolerating robbery," and as being guilty of "brazen theft." Some of these traducers and defamers would do well to study Mr. Lorimer's life and strive to approach as he can the ideals of Kipling.

Mr. Fletcher expressed the opinion that Senator Lorimer would not stoop to the purchase of votes or the debauching of a Legislature and that the Illinois Senator would surrender his office if he felt his election had been the result of fraud.

DUNCAN AT WHITE HOUSE

Conferred With President Taft Last Night—N. C. Appointments

Washington, July 8.—E. C. Duncan, of Raleigh, reached Washington today and will participate in the Taft conference at the White House tonight. Mr. Duncan is on his way to New York, where he will meet a number of prominent railroad men tomorrow.

"I know absolutely nothing about North Carolina appointments," said Mr. Duncan, when asked if he would make recommendations for North Carolina Federal jobs. However, everyone believes that Mr. Taft will consult Mr. Duncan before he again makes nominations for Federal jobs in Tar Heeldom. It is known that Mr. Duncan cares little whom the President nominates. However, the North Carolina national committeeman will not refuse to make recommendations when asked to do so by Mr. Taft, and it is believed this request will be made today.

LITTLE NEW EVIDENCE

Only One More State's Witness In Allen Case

Wytheville, Va., July 6.—When court in the case of Claude Allen adjourned at 1:30 this afternoon only one more witness for the commonwealth remained to be examined and one witness for the defense had given his testimony.

Although a large number of witnesses were placed on the stand today, no material fact not brought out at the first trial was developed. The witnesses for the prosecution have agreed thoroughly on three facts: That Floyd Allen, father of Claude, defied the court at Hillsville before any one drew a weapon; that the first shots came from the corner of the room in which the defendant and his uncle Sydney Allen, still a fugitive from justice, were standing and that they (the witnesses) are not under the influence of Clerk Goad.

MOVEMENT ON TO RESTORE HARMONY

Republicans May Petition Taft to Withdraw as a Candidate

PROBABLY ASK TEDDY ALSO

G. O. P. Forces Realize Defeat Faces Them and Will Try to Effect a Compromise With Progressive Faction.

Washington, July 8.—A Nation-wide movement to petition President Taft to withdraw as the Republican Presidential candidate is being backed by a large number of Republican office-holders who feel that they face defeat in November unless the breach in the party can be healed.

These men include members of Congress, members of State Legislatures which will elect Senators, State and county office-holders and party candidates. If the movement to petition Mr. Taft to withdraw succeeds in gaining any volume, it is said, these same men in the interest of party harmony may ask Col. Roosevelt also to withdraw as a prospective candidate for an independent nomination and permit a compromise selection of some man agreeable to both factions of the party. It is the desire of the promoters of the scheme that a decision shall be reached before August 5th, when the Roosevelt faction plans to hold a convention in Chicago.

The circulation of petitions, it was declared today, would start within a week. It was said the movement would begin spontaneously in every State. The organizers are now circulating blank forms of petitions and appointing supervisors, who in turn will engage canvassers to solicit the signatures of Republican voters. The authors of the plan expect to offer to practically every Republican voter in the United States a chance to express his opinion of Mr. Taft's candidacy, either by signing the petition or rejecting it.

The movement is in the hands of several well known members of Congress. They are being aided by many of the extreme Roosevelt Republicans. The enlistment of the National Progressive organization in the movement has been sought and it was stated today that Senator Dixon's organization was willing to co-operate.

Information that the petitions were to be put before the voters leaked out today. No particular person is authority for the statement and members of Congress concerned were unwilling to stand sponsor for it until the movement was under way.

The sponsors of the plan say one of its first results would be to let Mr. Taft know if there are any considerable number of regular Republicans who believe he should step aside in the interest of harmony.

SCORE FOR THAW

Johns Hopkins Professor Testifies for The Defense

White Plains, N. Y., July 8.—Harry K. Thaw felt that he scored heavily today when Dr. Adolph Meyer, professor of Pyschiatry at Johns Hopkins University, called as an expert alienist by Clarence J. Shearn, counsel for Thaw, swore that Thaw is not affected by any mental derangement that would make him dangerous if released. Attorney William T. Jerome who is representing the State in the proceedings to determine if Thaw is now sane, had rested his case earlier in the day after the third of the State's alienists, Dr. Carlos MacDonald, had sworn that Thaw has "always been a paranoiacs." Mr. Meyer said Thaw could not possibly conceal the existence of systematic delusions if he had them. The alienist asserted that a paranoiac will find opportunity to discuss his delusions with intimate friends. A person as ready a talker as Thaw would certainly discuss his delusions if he had any. This testimony of Dr. Meyer elated the Thaws as there has been no direct evidence introduced in the case as yet to the effect that Thaw has discussed his alleged delusions with any one.

Dr. Meyer said that while a true paranoiac might conceal his delusions, he could not conceal from a trained alienist the fact that he was hiding something. Thaw while on the witness stand gave no evidence that he is possessed of delusionary ideas, the alienist added.

In the women's department, Mrs. J. V. Taylor, of Atlanta, wrested the singles honors from Miss Irvine Murphy, of New Orleans, in the challenge round this afternoon, winning the first set, 6-0, losing the second 2-6 and taking the final set 6-0.

quard met his Waterloo today after winning 19 straight victories. He was taken out after the sixth inning, Chicago defeating New York 7 to 2 in the opening game of the series. This is Marquard's first defeat of the season. His inability to foil the local men at critical times and errors of his team-mates proved his undoing. He was opposed by James Lavender, a recruit, who, backed by the heavy, opportune hitting of the Chicago players, had little difficulty in keeping his team in the lead. Lavender allowed five hits, which were bunched in two innings. Marquard gave way to Devore in the seventh to allow the outfielder to bat, and Tesreau was sent in to pitch. Schulte's fielding and the batting of Evers and Saer were features.

What Makes a Woman?

One hundred and twenty pounds, more or less, of bone and muscle don't make a woman. It's a good foundation. Put into it health and strength and she may rule a kingdom. But that's just what Electric Bitters gives her. Thousands bless them for overcoming fainting and dizzy spells and for dispelling weakness, nervousness, backache and tired, listless, worn out feeling. "Electric Bitters have done me a world of good," writes Eliza Pool, Depew, Okla., "and I thank you, with all my heart, for making such a good medicine." Only 50c. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy.

AMERICANS CONTINUE TO WIN

U. S. Athletes Get All Three Paces in 800 Metres Run at Olympic Games, and Break the World's Records.

Stockholm, July 8.—This was another American day at the Olympic games. Again three American flags flew together, proclaiming that the United States had won all the places in the 800 metres run, one of the most coveted events on the programme.

James E. Meredith, Mercersburg Academy; Melvin W. Sheppard, Irish-American Athletic Club, and Ira N. Davenport, University of Chicago, finished in that order in the final heat, and each broke the world's record in a sensational finish of the hottest race athletic veterans in the stadium remembered.

Meredith lowered the time to one minute 51 9-10 seconds. He continued on to the half mile, which was officially recorded at one minute 52 1-2 seconds. Sheppard and Davenport were only inches behind. Six of the eight runners in this event were Americans Braun, the German crack, made a splendid fight, but collapsed within reach of the tape.

Besides this victory, the American team obtained more than its share of the other prizes. The running high jump had been conceded to the United States from the beginning. Six of the 11 men who took part in the final were Americans. Alma W. Richards, Brigham Young University, won the first place quiet easily, clearing the bar on the first attempt at 193 centimetres (about 6 feet 3 1-3 inches). George L. Horine, Leland Stanford University, the holder of the world's record, was not in his usual form and only succeeded in taking third place, jumping 19. centimetres. The German, Liesche, unexpectedly captured second place. None of the Americans equalled his best performance.

Platt Adams and Benjamin W. Adams, both of the New York Athletic Club, took second and third places in the standing broad jump, which was won by the Greek, Tsiclitéras, with a jump of three metres 37 centimetres (approximately 11 feet 7-10 inches), giving his country its first points.

In the 10,000 metres running event Finland's representatives covered themselves with glory. The long-legged Kolehmainen ran away from the Carlisle Indian, Louis Tewanima, who was unable to step quick enough to overcome the handicap of his shorter strides. Koehmainen's compatriot, Stenroos, finished third.

In the finals of these four events the United States athletes scored 15 of the 24 points. In the other competitions they were less fortunate.

The United States failed to shine in the 10,000 metres walk. Frederick H. Keiser, New York Athletic Club, who finished fifth in the second heat, being the only American left for the final.

The United States has passed Sweden in the number of points scored, the figures being:

United States, 59 points; Sweden, 51; Great Britain, 38; France, 17; Africa, 13; Germany, 12; Denmark, 9; Finland, 4; Greece, 3; Norway, 2.

With Payne Drug Company.

Mr. W. L. Futrell, who recently returned to this city after successfully passing the examination of the State Pharmacy Board following a year's study, has accepted a position with the Payne Drug Company, Fifth and Walnut streets, and will be in charge of the prescription department there. Before taking his course in pharmacy Mr. Futrell had six years experience with Robert R. Bellamy, in this city. The Payne Company has been open two months and the growth of the business in that time has necessitated the employing of another man. They are fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Futrell. The store is open night and day.

STATE TROOPS IN CAMP GLENN

Second Regiment Enjoying Their Annual Maneuvers—Col. Metts in Command—Sunday an Ideal Day at Morehead City.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Camp Glenn, N. C., July 7.—Since early morning on July 5th, Camp Glenn has again become a city of tents for the Second Regiment of the National Guard of this State, under command of Lieut. Col. J. VanB. Metts, is performing its annual tour of camp duty. Col. Metts, accompanied by his staff, arrived in camp on July 3rd, while the troops came in the day following and within a few hours of their arrival the daily routine had been established and everything has moved with clock-like precision since.

There are in camp here about 650 officers and men and a happy contented lot they are. Each day at 5 A. M. the bugle calls and the day's work begin. This consists of target shooting on the range, drills by companies, battalions and the regiment, guard mount and late each afternoon, dress parade. The parades of the Second Regiment are famed for their perfection and daily large crowds arrive in camp to witness this interesting ceremony. The men march with snap and precision and the lines are straight as ramrods. Applause is always unstinted as the companies march in review, and the men vie with each other to excell in their military duties. Col. Metts is the idol of every one in camp, officers and men alike, and the regiment he commands is composed of the best young manhood of Eastern Carolina. Capt. J. A. Dougherty and Capt. W. G. Peace are the two army officers detailed by the War Department as instructors and they are tireless in their efforts to instruct and to assist in every way the work in hand. Firing on the range starts each day at 7 o'clock and continues until noon. While four companies are shooting the remaining companies are being instructed in drill or performing other duties. At 12 comes dinner and at 1:30 is school for officers when the work of the morning is discussed and the army officers point out any errors that may have occurred, while work for the following day is outlined. At the same time the non-commissioned officers are instructed and drilled by Cadet Bullock, a student at the West Point Military Academy. Much of the afternoon is given the men for rest and recreation and they go sailing, fishing, bathing and enjoy the many other delights of the seashore. At 6 o'clock comes supper, which is followed at 7 o'clock by evening parade. At night the majority of the officers and men go to Morehead City, where at the gay Atlantic Hotel they dance and enjoy themselves to the fullest.

The past week has been a gay one at Morehead City and at camp. With the North Carolina Bar Association in session and the Fourth of July bringing hundreds of excursionists, a large crowd was ever about. The bar association was extended an invitation by Col. Metts to visit the camp, to meet the officers and to observe the work of the men. Many of the gentlemen have been over and the interchange of courtesies between the officers of the regiment and the gentlemen of the bar have been many.

On Saturday Adjt. Gen. Leinster arrived in camp and was greeted with the salute of cannons due his rank. Hon. Locke Craig, the next Governor, also paid a visit to camp and was met at the landing by Col. Metts and his adjutant, where the band was lined up and preceded the distinguished party into camp, playing their characteristic regimental march. On Saturday evening at hour for parade, Gen. B. S. Royster reviewed the regiment. It was a most interesting and inspiring sight and never has a regiment shown to better advantage. The lines were straight as arrows and the vociferous applause that greeted the various companies as they passed was most marked.

A source of great delight to all is the fact that many ladies daily visit the camp and they enjoy the camp meals while their presence inspires the men at parade to do their very best. Beginning Monday and until Friday, when the troops will break camp, a busy and interesting programme has been mapped out. There will be two days of firing on the range, drills, etc., and on Wednesday the big maneuvre will take place. For this the entire regiment will march out of camp just as in actual war. The troops will bivouac over night and at early dawn on Thursday fighting will begin. After the battle a parade will be held at Morehead City and then the troops will return to camp for pay. So far the camp has been an ideal one in every way. Under the able supervision of the medical corps in charge of Lieut. Tayloe, the health and sanitation of the camp have been perfect. A fully equipped hospital has been established and the surgeons are ready for any emergency that may arise, up to this time there has been no untoward incident. Major Page, of the medical corps, United States Army, has been detailed as special inspector of this department and is very popular with all. On Sunday morning the band of the regiment rendered a delightful concert which will be repeated again at a later date.

This camp is pronounced by all one of the most successful that the regiment has had and the officers are proving themselves 100 per cent. efficient. The army officers, accustomed as they are to having the minutest detail carried out promptly, have been high in their praise of the promptitude of all. While slow to praise, they have voiced their satisfaction with the duties performed in no uncertain tones. There is never any delay, officers and men alike reporting for all duties with the precision and promptness of old regulars and for that reason the army officers are so pleased.

The weather has been most propitious all along and this adds no little to the success of the camp.

Sunday, an ideal day, hundreds of visitors were in camp, and while it was a day of complete rest for the soldiers, it was also a day of specially good dinners. Sailing parties to the surf, to the lighthouse, to Beaufort, and Morehead City were numerous. It is safe to predict that the camp of the Second Infantry for the year 1912 will pass into history as one of the best ever held.

LAND OF THE SKY.

Col. Pearsall Writes of Some Beauties of Mountain Country.

Asheville, N. C., July 4.—"The Land of the Sky" is surely no misnomer. This afternoon, with a jolly company of rural letter carriers, we took a trip to and through that vast estate known as "Biltmore" and drove for several hours over some of the most perfectly constructed private macadam roads in the South. As you enter in carriages at the lodge or keeper's gate, tickets of admission are sold you with coupons to be delivered at exit lodge for 10 cents. We were several hours going through the wooded part on both sides of which grow lovely copses or steep hills of spruce, Norway and white pines intermingling with chestnut, rhododendron, honeysuckle and many kinds of oak that grow in the mountains. We drove for miles with nothing to be seen but woods. Finally we emerged just before that immense pile of buildings, the Biltmore home. But there is no admission for a keeper stands ever ready to keep off intruders afoot or in carriages. No automobiles except that of the owner are allowed. The fine-kept span of horses kept a merry trot all the way. When the scenes change, broad acres of alfalfa, the clovers, on steep hill sides grow even under the shade trees. Presently we emerge and a beautiful vista of the French Broad river is seen. We drive for miles by the riverside and between us and the river immense stacks of timothy, oats and native grasses are seen. The most up-to-date farm machinery is used. Hundreds of acres are sown to field peas. Directly we come to the corn belt and such corn we never saw growing and appears to be six inches apart in the drills which are four feet apart. At intervals fine springs gushing out with water of icy coldness to quench the thirst can be seen. Presently we come in sight of the Vanderbilt dairy, which covers over acres of ground. Of course, we dropped in to be waited on by a mountain dairy maid with cherry cheeks who dispensed us peach cream that was real cream from that famous herd of Jerseys. After satisfying our desires in that way and chaffing the pretty dairy maidens, we went into the most modern dairy in the South. The milking operations were being conducted by a host of white young men milkers, dairymen dressed in white canvas. All the milk is weighed and 175 fine Jerseys were in their stanchions. The milk is conveyed to the cooling house; electric fans to keep the cans cool, concrete floors, the milk in five gallon cans conveyed by trolley from the stables to be bottled, sold or separated by electric power and the cream placed in cold storage until carried to the Asheville market.

We went among those fine, fat, sleek cows and saw the dairymen milking, perfect streams of the pure lactated fluid. Saw the famous "Kolu Lorna" that cost $2,000 being milked. When fresh she gives three pounds of butter and seven gallons per day. Opposite the stanchions the name of each cow and her pedigree are posted. A daily record is kept of pounds or gallons of milk. Some of these cows bear beautiful names such as "Sultana Aulanda, "Kola's Rebecca", "Foxflint of Biltmore," etc. There are immense Jerseys weighing 800 to 1,000 pounds, of light tan color, some nearly white. The younger cows, 3 1-2 to 4 years old, are darker. After leaving the dairy the vegetable fields are seen—immense cauliflower, celery, cabbage, rhubarb, growing to perfection. Then roses, shrubbery and hedge plants in nurseries.

We spent hours sight-seeing—what a man with wealth can accomplish—and felt it was good to have lived to see the famous Vanderbilt estate.

AT DELIGHTFUL MONTREAT.

Already Large Number of Visitors Are at Favorite Resort.

Montreat, N. C., July 6.—The opening of the season at Montreat, the Summer Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church, is more encouraging this year than at any time in its history. Already a large number of visitors are present, representing several States, and the promise is that this Summer will be very largely increased during the next few days.

The programme of this season will begin on Sunday and will be continued from that date until the last week of August. The opening feature will be a sermon by Rev. W. L. Lingle, D. D., of Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Va., who is closely and prominently identified with the Mountain Retreat Association and with the development of Montreat, and who will preside throughout the programme this year. Dr. Lingle will preach on Sunday morning and his subject will be "The Greatest Need of the Church". Rev. R. C. Anderson, president of the Mountain Retreat Association, will preach Sunday evening.

Beginning on Monday morning and continuing for two weeks, Rev. R. G Pearson, D. D., of Columbia, S. C., Theological Seminary, will conduct the Bible Study, with which each day, during five days of every week of the programme will begin. The other speakers who will be heard during the first week of the programme will be Rev. George L. Robinson, D. D., of McCormick Theological Seminary, Chicago, and Cameron Johnson, who has traveled extensively, especially in foreign mission fields, and who is said to possess the finest collection of stereopticon views of foreign countries that have been seen in America.

Saturday of each week during the season the programme will be suspended and the day will be given over to mountain climbing and other forms of recreation. Saturday evening stereopticon views wil be shown or some interesting lecture or address will be delivered.

GOVERNOR KITCHIN TO WEST

Piedmont and East Carolina Chartered—Meeting of State Democratic Executive Committee—Court Convenes

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 8.—Governor Kitchin has gone for a campaign trip into the western part of the State. He is visiting a number of places for personal conferences with his campaign managers and has for his special objective a speech on the issues of the Senatorial contest at Jefferson, in Ashe county, Thursday. He will not be in the executive office again until Friday or Saturday.

The Piedmont and Eastern Railroad Co., with principal office at Burlington, was chartered today by the State for the purpose of constructing and operating interurban electric railroad from Winston-Salem to Durham, through the towns of Greensboro, Burlington and Graham, the distance being nearly 100 miles with Burlington as the central point. The incorporators are J. W. Murray, J. M. Cook, J. Harren. A. L. Davis, Chas. A. Scott, Burlington; J. R. Paschall, Jas. Millen ,Warren Moore and C. Boice, of Richmond, Va. The capital stock is $100,000 authorized with $9,000 subscribed.

Other charters are for the Armstrong Cotton Mill Co., of Gastonia, capital $200,000 authorized and $51,000 subscribed by C. B. Armstrong, A. G. Myers, R. G. Rankin and others for general cotton milling business; the Mutual Realty & Insurance Co., of Dunn, capital $50,000 authorized and $5,000 subscribed for insurance and real estate business. The Eagles' Home Co., of Greensboro, capital $55,000 authorized and $500 subscribed by W. R. Tomilson and others; the Kaplin Bros. Co., Raleigh, $30,000 capital authorized and $10,000 subscribed by Harry Kaplin and others.

Sunday afternoon Master Nathaniel Dunn, Jr., five-year-old son of Mr. N. A. Dunn ran away from the home and got into the buggy his father had been driving and started out for a drive. On Hillsboro street the horse became frightened and ran away throwing the little fellow out, bruising him up badly but breaking no bones.

The work of putting on the tile roof of the handsome new Church of the Good Shepherd is now completed except for a small section made up of coverings of a number of recesses about the splendid edifice. A large part of the interior finish is already provided for in special memorials, including a lovely altar and super-altar equipment and it is probable that there will be a memorial to the late Gen. R. F. Hoke that will include the pulpit and lecturn.

On Tuesday night of this week there is to be a called meeting of the State Democratic Executive Committee at which time there is to be the election of a successor to Hon. A. H. Eller, as State chairman, the indications being that Hon. Clyde Hoey, of Shelby, will be chosen as chairman. Congressman Webb and other strong Western Democrats have endorsed Mr. Hoey very strongly. There has been mention of Mr. Cameron Morrison as State chairman but he has stated that he could not possibly undertake the duties of the place. Mr. Eller says he cannot serve longer. He has been chairman for two campaigns and retires with the deepest gratitude of the party for the service he has rendered.

Judge G. H. Ferguson convened a one-week term of criminal court for Wake county this morning, none of the numerous cases awaiting trial being of special note. Will Davis is to stand trial for criminal assault on a small negro girl west of Raleigh. Joe Cook is to answer the charge of murder for the killing of a negro at Wendell. Both crimes were committed within the past week.

Wake county Democratic leaders say that there is brighter prospect for united effort along party lines this campaign in Wake county than there has been in years and that an exceptionany large Democratic majority is assured. Hon. Percy J. Oliver, of Apex, has been chosen as county chairman and he is insisting on the complete elimination of all factionalism during the campaign that is about to open.

Chronic Ulcers Mean Bad Blood

If outside influences were responsible for chronic ulcers, then external applications and simple cleanliness would be a curative treatment. But the trouble is always in the blood which has become unhealthy and diseased, and keeps the sore open by continually discharging into it the impurities and infectious matter with which the circulation is filled. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., may cause the place to scab over temporarily, but the blood is not made purer by such treatment and soon the old inflammation and discharge will return and the sore be as bad or worse than before. Nor will removing the place by surgical operation insure a cure; the cause still remains in the blood and the sore is bound to return. S. S. S. heals old sores by going down into the blood and removing the impurities and germs which are responsible for the place. S. S. S. thoroughly purifies the circulation and in this way destroys the source of every chronic ulcer. In addition to purifying the blood S. S. S. enriches this vital fluid and in every way assists nature in overcoming the bad effects of a chronic ulcer. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free.

"The financial situation" is a job that looks good to everybody.

We are told that "a Chinese diplomat eluded his assassin." According to Virginia lingo, the diplomat "must have saw him first."

A St. Louis girl fasted three days and then claimed that she had a "gift of tongues." Most any of us men could also do some tall talking if our rations were cut off for three days.

Of course, Wilson is going to be elected, but the Republicans will turn the tables on us when they compare notes with us about the rush for the pie counter.

Mr. Chairman, please recognize the Third Termer as occupying a sitting posture so long as Senator LaFollette has the floor and is trying his best to start something.

A German has invented a pistol which discharges a load of gas. A pistol like that might be used in our sister States in order to outargue some of their primary campaign orators.

People who are blabbing the loudest against kissing are mostly those who would be forcibly resisted if they should attempt to get too gay with their disorderly attempts at osculation.

Woodrow Wilson was nominated for President in response to overwhelming public sentiment, but within a week that sentiment seems to be assuming the proportions of a tidal wave.

If it weren't for States' rights, Congress might find it racy and entertaining to investigate the numerous allegations made loosely during the primary campaign now in "full blast" in South Carolina.

President Taft goes right on playing golf and says he is thinking more of his vacation than politics. Of course, he is not going to do any worrying over his campaign. He will leave all that to Wall Street.

President Taft stuck to Ballinger and Wilson and now he is sticking to McVeagh in his trouble. One trait of the President is not to believe a word against any of his official family till they take a notion to confess.

There are now 48 States and no other territory out of which to make any more States. It has been suggested, however, that Texas should be divided. Texas already seems to be pretty well divided between Senator Bailey and Cone Johnson.

Mr. George W. Perkins' interest in the Roosevelt party is because the Colonel proposes to regulate trusts instead of busting them. The multi-millionaire Harvester trust magnate knows Teddy's method of regulation, and since it looks good to him it ought to make a blind man suspicious.

Wall Street is crying "Bryan" to defeat Wilson but it looks like that would be a recommendation to about three-fourths of the Democrats and Republicans in the Nation. Bryanism has captured the Democratic party, and it would have walked away with half the Republican party had not Col. Roosevelt seen it in time to head it off and corral it for his own use.

Senator LaFollette has no boom now, but he is still after the man who made a mess of the brightest possibilities of all his political career. He is still firing questions at Roosevelt and Teddy hasn't got a word to say. Colonel Watterson thinks Teddy is crazy, but he should not fail to note that the Rough Rider's silenece towards LaFollette is evidence that the Colonel is sane enough to know when to don't.

Says the Greensboro Record: "Gentlemen of leisure who sit in the shade along the sidewalks want a change in the law." Reference probably is made to a city ordinance to prevent sidewalk scenes that would make Greensboro look like a village. If the Will-not-work Circle is permitted to air itself on the sidewalk it will make Charlotte, Raleigh and Asheville indulge in metropolitan smiles.

DOLLAR POLITICS.

Wall Street's idea of politics is unlimited freedom and liberty without a limit. Financiers seem to want freedom from molestation and complete liberty to do as they please in order to make great fortunes out of the masses. Most of us in forming our politicial affiliations are guided by some sense of patriotism and conscientious convictions concerning the rights and happiness of the masses. What is known as Wall Street, abstractly comprising the money interests, doesn't seem to consider anything but the dollar, while country and humanity is never thought of in its politics.

We are deeply impressed with the purely mercenary politics that seem to prevail in the New York financial centre. No thought is taken of the broader questions of popular rights, government by the people, and government for the people. The interests of the masses and the safety of the government never seems to bother a Streeter's head. His idea of politics is to be let alone so he can chase dollars and get them in any way he chooses without regard to whether the public interests are hurt or not. Absolute safety for money and money getters is demanded, but all idea of protection of the people from the imposition and tyranny of a class is no part of the political sentiment of a man whose god is money. We do not see why a millionaire should not be as patriotic and humane as any other man, and be entitled to equal rights with all other men, but we cannot see why he demands special privileges, special protection and special immunities not granted to any other class of citizens.

No man ought to ask any more than equal rights and privileges for all men alike, but it seems that our fellow citizens in Wall Street become alarmed when the American government makes an attempt to carry out the constitution guaranteeing the life, liberty and property of all men. The rich certainly would approve a government that would prevent the masses from confiscating their wealth, but they seem to be terribly alarmed when the proposition is made that the government shall enforce the laws to prevent the predatory rich from confiscating the earnings of the average man. It is exceedingly curious that it is so, but that is precisely what is meant by the perturbation of Wall Street over the political situation.

With the exception of 1860, this Presidential campaign involves more serious questions than have ever had to be considered by the citizens of the Republic. It has witnessed disruption of the Republican party over momentous public question involving the rights of the people and the preservation of the form of government established by the revolution in 1776. This campaign has involved so many disturbing factors that there will be four candidates in the field for President. William Howard Taft will head the reactionary Republican party, Theodore Roosevelt will lead the so-called Progressive Republican party, Woodrow Wilson stands sponsor for the party which adheres to the constitution of the Republic, and Eugene V. Debbs heads a growing Socialistic party which, if it were to gain the mastery, would revolutionize society and the government.

We are witnessing the struggle of Roosevelt for a third term—a fight for the overthrow of precedent and prejudice concerning the terms of the Presidents of our Republic. We are looking upon the desperate efforts of the Taft party to perpetuate a political system by which it permits one class of citizens to confiscate the earnings and savings of the masses contrary to the constitution. That is done by the tariff which enables combinations and monopolies to arbitrarily fix prices that are the equivalent of levying tribute upon freemen. We are looking on while the Wilson party is denying the right of the Taft party to grant further privilege to freebooters to exploit the people. We are witnessing a Democratic fight against "new nationalism", socialism, and third termism.

On the part of the old Republican party there is a fight to continue a monstrous economic and industrial system that is unjust and unreasonable. Even the Republican party has rebelled against itself upon that score. The balance of us consider gravely the menace of third termism and the policies which are driving the masses to socialism. The movement in that direction is faster than we would like to see, but it will be pell-mell if present political conditions are not altered. However, none of the grave questions and real issues seem to concern Wall Street. Its only interest in the campaign concerns the dollar. It cares nothing for third termism, socialism, Aldrichism, or Teddyism.

The only feature of the political situation the Wall Street papers discuss is that of money, bonds, speculation and Big Business. We have been watching Wall Street with more interest and closeness than usual. At first the papers professed a holy terror of Teddy. When Taft appeared to be about to lose out for the nomination, and the Democratic party appeared to lean towards Wilson, they considered the Rough Rider and third termer as the lesser of two evils. When Taft won, they hoped for the nomination of a Democrat who would not disturb the present order of things. Since Wilson has been nominated on a platform proposing to restore the government to the people, they have gone back to Taft.

We are grieved to say that the dollar is the consideration, while everybody knows that Woodrow Wilson and the Democratic party can be trusted to hold the balances evenly between all classes of American people. However, that does not seem to be what Wall Street wants. It wants privilege and injustice perpetuated.

WALL STREET CRYING BRYAN

In another article we refer to the evident fact that the financial interests have no politics save those involving the dollar. We base it on the comments of the financial journals upon the nomination of Wilson. Evidently the Street is now looking to Taft since he is the nominee of the standpat Republican party, but when Roosevelt was about to beat the President, the Rough Rider began to look to the financiers. The fact is, it was not so much the man as the party that was favored by the interests. It was and is now the Republican party, whether Taft or Roosevelt were its nominee. Just as we suspected and expected, Wall Street is now lining up for Taft. Says the Commercial and Financial Chronicle, of July 6th:

"The most obvious comment on the nomination of Woodrow Wilson for President of the United States by the Democratic National Convention is that it marks the triumph of William J. Bryan. Next to putting up Mr. Bryan himself no more regrettable step, in our estimation, could have been taken, in the interests of the Democratic party, or in the interests of the country, than the nomination of a candidate championed by Mr. Bryan. Entirely apart from Mr. Bryan's political and economic views, which are no sounder today than they were in 1896, when he appealed for the suffrage of the American people for the first time. Mr. Bryan is a demagogic figure of the most extreme kind. His whole stock in trade consists of his claim to be considered the champion of the rights of the masses. These he seeks to mislead and to deceive by specious appeals to their lower instincts by arousing feelings of restlessness and discontent. He is the same type of man as Mr. Roosevelt in the Republican party. The Republican party has just been purified by the casting out of Mr. Roosevelt. Every well-wisher of his country was entertaining the hope that the Democratic party would be similarly purged and purified by the casting out of Mr. Bryan. Instead of that he has succeeded in strengthening his hold on the party, after having in a most spectacular and theatric manner given notice to the whole world of his intention to force the convention to do his bidding. It cannot be said that Mr. Wilson has become identified with Mr. Bryan without the former's consent. Some of the daily papers, which realize what a stigma attaches to the Bryan label, are endeavoring to have it appear that the linking of Bryan and Wilson has been wholly the work of Bryan. It is true that last Saturday Mr. Bryan very ostentatiously made an attack on the New York delegation, and then transferred his vote from Speaker Clark to Mr. Wilson and declared that he would not participate in the nomination of any candidate who had the support of the New York delegation, and also intimated that if any candidate, no matter who he might be, should get the nomination by the vote of New York he would not support him. This apparently was done without consultation with Mr. Wilson. But if Mr. Wilson was not in sympathy with or did not approve of the Bryan attack, to which alone he owes his nomination, he took great good care that the fact should not become known."

The Commercial and Financial Chronicle, a very able journal, plainly intimates in the above that Wilson can expect no support from the financial interests. It goes on at length to show how the shadow of Bryan hangs over Wilson and emphasizes what it says is "the fact that the nomination of Wilson was forced upon the convention by Bryan." The fight in the convention is detailed to show that Bryan nominated Wilson, and the Chronicle adds: "These facts should not be blotted out, for they show that at Baltimore, the majority did not rule."

The Chronicle overlooks the fact that with all restraint removed from the delegates at Baltimore they voted by a two-thirds majority for Wilson, thus complying with the great uprising of public opinion. Col. Bryan greatly aided in bringing the convention to the point of ratifying the overwhelming sentiment of the people, but why Wilson should be condemned as the nominee of even Bryan we are at a loss to conceive, since the Nebraskan himself doubtless is the strongest man, in the popular estimate, of all the public men of this country.

The Colonel is strong with Republicans as well as with Democrats, for the people do not fear him like Wall Street. It is difficult to conceive how such honest and patriotic men as Bryan and Wilson combined would do damage to the interests of this country, and we do not believe such a belief seriously exists in Wall Street or elsewhere among sensible people. The fact is, Wall Street wants the same old Republican party that it has always wanted and it simply wants an excuse to again subscribe its money for the privilege party and its candidate. Bryan is only used as a bugaboo to frighten a certain class of voters away from Wilson, but our observation is that the great majority of the people trust Col. Bryan even more implicity than they do any other man in the public life of the nation.

Such a bugaboo, therefore, is not likely to scare the masses out of their determination to make Wilson President on the very kind of platform that they realize and know is for the benefit of all the people of this country. They will be afraid of neither the nominee nor his platform. Wall Street is crying "Bryan" to beat Wilson, but it is a far cry and will have no terrors for 9,000,000 voters in November.

CANADA PROTESTS

Premier Borden, of Canada, does not like the policy of Congress in the matter of prohibiting the use of the Panama canal to steamships owned and operated by railroads. That would cut out some of the Canadian lines which operate ocean steamships in connection with their transcontinental and coastwise transportation.

Mr. Borden has gone to London to protest to the British government against the passage of any such regulations by the American Congress, as embraced in the proposed bill reported by the Senate Committee on Commerce. Of course, if Great Britain succeeds in securing the right of passage for the ships of the Canadian railways, it will mean that those of American lines cannot be prohibited from using the canal.

The proposition to prohibit railroad ships from using the canal is for the purpose of preventing the possibility of the railways controlling both water and rail freight rates. There is not likely to be any competition in carrying if the railroads are allowed to run their own ships and favor them in the carrying trade.

CURRENT COMMENT.

The changes are that Governor Harmon will also support the ticket, but he did not make enough of a showing in the convention for anybody to be asking questions about it.—Durham Herald.

"Search me, by George," said Col. Roosevelt when asked what the name of his new party would be. No doubt the Colonel remembers the old saw, "No name, no blame."—Jacksonville Times-Union.

"If you ask what State he hails from our sole reply will be" Virginia gave him birth; Carolina cradled him; Georgia nourished his youth; the University of Jefferson trained his mind and fixed his political faith; and New Jersey adopted him.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

Checks that come to The Observer pass through the hands of several young women on the course through the business office. Some of these aforesaid young women occasionally get a mild shock, as was the case yesterday when one check bore the endorsement: "Hooray for Wilson! To hell with Teddy!"—Charlotte Observer.

It is a great pleasure to see our morning contemporary, The Observer, now firmly ensconced on the Wilson band wagon. Yesterday The Observer placed a "Wilson and Marshall" banner across the front of its building, and it is exceedingly good to look upon. But it is not altogether an 11th hour conversion with Editor Harris, if we understand aright, for he has been doing loyal service right along.—Charlotte News.

Col. Roosevelt is quoted as contemplating making the high cost of living one of his campaign issues. It would be a most unfortunate selection. Prices made their most notable advance while the Colonel was President and the advance continued steadily under Mr. Taft, who was put in office to carry out the Colonel's policies. Col. Roosevelt represents those things which add to the cost of living and it will be difficult for him to convince voters with memories to the contrary.—Savannah News.

We do not know that it is true, but it is being told that Mr. William Jennings Bryan is coming to North Carolina to make some speeches for William Walton Kitchin, in which event it might be well for the Simmons men to get ready to hit the ceiling, for Bryan has a way of carrying things before him, with one exception—enough votes to be elected President. Wouldn't it be funny if Bryan should come down to help out Kitchin? There would be some making for the tall timber.—Greensboro Record.

Certain newspapers and certain candidates in South Carolina are opposing the resolution of Congress amending the Constitution by providing that United States Senators be elected by direct vote of the people. The amendment will be submitted to the South Carolina General Assembly for ratification in due time. The opponents of the amendment are opposing the National Democratic party platform adopted in Baltimore. Democrats of the South as well as of other parts of the country concurring in its adoption. To do so is their right, but Democrats will not abet them in the exercise of it.—Columbia State.

NO CHAIRMAN YET

Republican National Committee Fails To Select a Man

Washington, July 8.—The selection of a chairman for the Republican National Committee was tonight still in the air.

For four hours this afternoon President Taft, his secretary, Charles D. Hilles, and a sub-committee of the Republican National Committee, discussed the question of the chairmanship. It was 5:30 o'clock tonight when they adjourned until 10:30 tomorrow morning.

More than a dozen names were considered during the long discussion held in the White House. The conference was entirely amicable. No feeling developed against any particular candidate. About the only actual result of the meeting was the final elimination from considering of the name of Hilles. He told the committeemen that under no circumstances would he take the position, but that he would work with all his ability for the President's re-election in his present post as secretary to the President. Predictions were freely made tonight that the chairmanship might not be settled for several days. Every man who might be available will be consulted before the sub-committee makes its final decision and all his strong points and all his weaknesses will be brought out. President Taft was said to be in a receptive mood and entirely willing to take any man who met with the approval of the sub-committee.

The President was host tonight to the members of the sub-committee and many of the leading Republicans of the country at an outdoor reception in the White House grounds.

CONCLUDE TESTIMONY TODAY.

Claude Allen and 18 Witnesses Examined Yesterday.

Wytheville, Va., July 8.—The prisoner and 18 other witnesses for the defense were today examined in the trial of Claude Allen, charged with killing Sheriff L. F. Webb, of the Hillsville court house tragedy. The defendant denied that he shot the sheriff or shot at him. The majority of the other witnesses testified as to the character of the prisoner, but a number of them appeared to know the Allens very slightly. Several witnesses were introduced to disprove statements made by Dexter Goad, the man who finally drove the Allens from the court room, as to the time he drew his pistol and other evidence given by him.

Court adjourned an hour earlier than usual on account of the absence of witnesses. If there is no further delay the taking of testimony will probably be concluded tomorrow. A large number of ladies and Summer visitors were present at today's hearing.

Washington, July 8.—Representative Joseph T. Johnson, of South Carolina, did not bear a burglar who got into his apartment last night, so the burglar got $72.50 in money, several Panama coins and a pass on the Panama Railroad. The burglar got through a rear window and left no clue.

Clarendon Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will entertain the members of the other local Pythian lodges at a reception this evening in honor of Col. Walker Taylor, a member of Clarendon Lodge, and the newly elected Grand Chancellor Commander of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, Domain of North Carolina.

The reception will be held in the Pythian Hall, over the Murchison National Bank, and will begin at 8 o'clock. District Deputy Irving B. Tucker, of Whiteville, will act as master of ceremonies, and Dr. W. C. Galloway, of this city, will introduce the Grand Chancellor. Mr. G. Herbert Smith, of Cronly, a member of the board of trustees of the Pythian Home, will be present and is down on the programme for one of his delightfully witty speeches. There will be a number of other out-of-town Pythians present and several others will have parts on the programme. Miss Mary Houston will delight the gathering with one of her accomplished recitations.

Dainty refreshments, appropriate to the season and occasion, will be served and the evening will be one of all around jollification and good fellowship.

All members of the local and Delgado Pythian Lodges are invited to attend the reception without any invitation, and, in fact, all members are expected to be present. Any visiting Pythians who may be in the city are also very cordially invited to attend, and are assured of a hearty welcome.

WILL BE RECOGNIZED

This City Will Have a Place on Folders of the Seaboard Air Line

Due to the efforts of Mr. H. B. Branch, secretary of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, Wilmington will hereafter occupy a place on the folders of the Seaboard Air Line as conspicuous as other important points on this railroad. Heretofore Wilmington has not received any mention at all on the back of the folder while other towns on the road received prominent mention. Mr. Branch took the matter up with Mr. F. A. Fetter, local commercial agent of the Seaboard, and the following is the letter received by him from Mr. Fetter:

"Wilmington, N. C., July 8th, 1912.

"Mr. H. B. Branch, Sec., Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, Wilmington, North Carolina.

"Dear Sir:—Referring further to your letter of June 28th, in regard to the name of Wilmington appearing on the back of our folders.

"I take pleasure in advising that the name of Wilmington will appear on these folders with the next change. I regret very much that our attention was not called to this matter sooner, as recently we have made a revision of the towns appearing on the same.

"Yours very truly,

"F. A. FETTER,

"Commercial Agent."

FIND BEER AND WHISKEY.

Police Made Raid on Subway Cafe on Princess Street Last Night.

Chief of Police Fowler, Sergeant Grimsley and Acting Sergeant Marcus Gray made a sudden raid on the Subway Cafe, on the north side of Princess street, just west of Front, last night, about 9 o'clock, and found about 200 bottles of whiskey and probably a barrel of botted beer. Chief Fowler stated after the search that the whiskey was in plain sight and that the beer was in the refrigerator or close around it. Chief Fowler also stated that a number of people were ranged around the bar drinking, when they went in.

The officers merely searched the building and took a careful estimate of the spirituous drinks in stock. They made no attempt to arrest any one. Chief Fowler said that he was not certain, but that he thought the business was either owned or managed by Mr. Joseph Shepard, in whose name a soft drink and restaurant license was issued some time ago.

PORT PARAGRAPHS.

British Steamer Arrives—Strike Delays Clyde Liner Navahoe.

The British steamer Ormesby, Capt. Hansen, arrived Sunday from Huelva with cargo of pyrites for the American Agricultural Chemical Co.; vessel to Alexander Sprunt & Son.

The United States government survey boat Hydrographer, which has been in port several days, steamed yesterday for Norfolk, via Beaufort.

The revenue cutter Seminole, which left last week for a short cruise to Cape Lookout, returned to her station here Sunday.

The Clyde Line steamer Navahoe, which was due to leave New York for Wilmington Friday, was delayed by the Transport Workers' strike and did not clear till Sunday night. The steamer will arrive here tonight or early tomorrow morning.

Double Charge of Larceny.

Gee Holland, colored, was arrested Sunday by Officer D. W. Coleman on a charge of the larceny of about six dollars from the residence of Mrs. Alderman, where he was employed as butler. Upon arrival at the police station it was found that there was an old warrant charging him with the larceny of a suit of clothes from Mr. W. F. Wallace last May. The case will come up in the Recorder's court this morning.

Mail Carriers Will Fly.

This is an age of great discoveries. Progress rides on the air. Soon we may see Uncle Sam's mail carriers flying in all directions, transporting mail. People take a wonderful interest in a discovery that benefits them. That's why Dr. King's New Discovery for coughs, colds and other throat and lung diseases is the most popular medicine in America. "It cured me of a dreadful cough," writes Mrs. J. F. Davis, Stickney Corner, Me., "after doctor's treatment and all other remedies had failed." For coughs, colds or any bronchial affection it's unequaled. Price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free at R. R. Bellamy.

..Theatrical..

"The Dream of a Moving Picture Director" will be the star film at the Grand Theatre today and patrons of the "moveys" will delight in this inside story of the now popular entertainment vehicle the world over.

The scenario of a phtoto-play is wanted quick and Shammon Fife, the writer, is instructed to make one in an hour. The director gets the script and rushes on the job after the usual instructions and address to the players all to retire and "make up." The worn-out director falls asleep in a chair. Then follows the play and it is all about a beautiful little stenographer who falls in love with the head clerk of the office. The boss, a black-mustached villain, is pictured and finally one of the scene shifters drops a flat on the director's head and he wakes up with a start. The film is by Lubin, and that means a whole lot to those who are able to discriminate between good and bad in the picture line.

Another feature film for today is "The Laurel Wreath of Fame," an Essanay photoplay, a beautiful and impressive drama depicting the life tragedy of one of the world's greatest musicians. While these two films are topliners, so to speak, there will be still a third and with the always delightfully cool and pleasant auditorium the crowds should pack the little theatre for each and every performance.

At the Bijou.

Atmospherically speaking, yesterday was "blue Monday", but speaking in the spirit of the New Bijou, it was bright and glorious Monday, because that amusement palace did big business and brought joy and brightness to all there. Dismalness is invariably stopped at the threshold of the New Bijou, and gloom understands that it is a forbidden spot. Nothing better attests a theatre's popularity and its ultra atractiveness than large attendances on drear days. So, according to that measurement, the New Bijou is the popular and attracive place.

An especially novel film, "A Woman's Way," is a topliner today, and it will provide big entertainment of the most wholesome type. There are two women in this particular case. One is the sheriff and the other her daughter. The sheriff is wounded and the daring daughter takes her place and captures the bandit, who turns out to be her lover. However, she is true to honor and her lover meets his fate.

The chief fun maker, and it's a howl, is "His Wife's Whims". This film is built upon new lines. His wife suffers with all kinds of queer whims, and the alienist tells him he must humor her. This he does and the complications that arise cause screams of laughter. The fun is hot, fast and furious, and in this film Bijou attendants will behold the most mirth provoking thing they have witnessed in years. These are but samples of the many superb film successes that will be offered by the New Bijou today, besides merry new music.

THE RECORDER'S COURT

Dreary and Uninteresting Session Yesterday Morning

For a Monday morning sitting, yesterday's session of the Recorder's court was one of the dullest of some time, there being not a great number of cases and these all without any extraordinary features to lend them interest.

Louis David, an 11-year-old colored boy, was found guilty of carrying a concealed weapon in the form of a razor, but judgment was suspended on account of his tender age. William and Haywood Pigford, colored, two brothers, were tried on charges of an affray. They were found not guilty, but William was taxed $5 and costs for an assault. A charge of carrying a deadly weapon fell flat when he proved that he was on his own premises at the time.

William Haynes, colored, was charged with forcible trespass, and was found guilty, judgment being suspended on payment of the costs. Pompey Lyon, colored, who cracked Haynes over the head with a pitchfork handle while the latter was trespassing on his place, was charged with an assault with a deadly weapon. A nol pros was taken. Chas. Robinson, colored, was found guilty of an assault with a deadly weapon on Annie Melvin and was fined $5 and costs.

Joe Williams, colored, was charged with an assault on a female, his wife. Before the case came to trial the woman became repentant and asked to be allowed to withdraw the warrant. Williams was allowed to pay the costs and go. Judgment was suspended in the case of Dandy Johnson, colored, charged with violating the driving ordinance. Four drunks contributed $5 and costs each.

Fire Destroys House

Fire destroyed a five-room house belonging to and occupied by Mr. T. A. Watson on the Castle Haynes road at Gordon's Crossing, near Wrightsboro, last evening about 7 o'clock. Mr. Watson, who is in charge of the grading work being done by Messrs. J. G. Wright & Son on Macomber's ditch, received a telephone message advising him of the news. Everything was lost in the blaze, the origin of which is unknown. It was not learned last night whether Mr. Watson carried any insurance or not.

APOLLO CONCERT COMPANY

Opening Number In Star Course of St. Andrew's Brotherhood

This superlatively excellent company of finished musicians will open the Star Course of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church in October, as will be seen by advertisement elsewhere in today's paper.

The Apollo Concert Company is offered in response to a persistent call from the most experienced and discriminating committee for a company of strictly high-class musicians and entertainers, capable of giving a programme of great variety and superior quality. This company appears upon the leading courses in the United States, and there are more demands for their dates than time will permit of filling. They are kept constantly busy for one season's end to another, and had they the time they would have no difficulty in filling twice as many engagements as they now accept. Their work is chiefly of an instrumental character of great variety. Trombones, horns, cornets, bangoes, saxaphones and guitars are employed in their work. This coming season they carry with them an instrument of their own invention and naming. The Apollophone, embodying all the better qualities of the Xylophone and the Marimbaphone. This is a very large instrument, and the entire company is required to play it. It is a distinct novelty, a surprise and a treat.

This is only one number of seven premier attractions, and so low have the tickets been priced by the Brotherhood, that this single number would ordinarily cost the entire charge for a season ticket.

The canvass now on is meeting with a very fine response on the part of the citizenry of Wilmington, and now it looks as if the entire seating capacity of Memorial building will be sold out to subscribers for season tickets before the week closes. Those desiring season tickets would do well to communicate with D. L. Latta, care of Alexander Sprunt & Son, and enter their names for a season ticket. A section of Memorial hall will be reserved for all holders of season tickets. No numbers will be given on Saturday nights. And season tickets will be transferable.

DEATH OF R. B. MOSS

Young Man Passed Away From Attack of Lockjaw—Funeral

Robert Bernard Moss, the 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Moss, of Carolina Place, died Sunday morning at the residence of his parents, apparently succumbing to a sudden attack of lockjaw. The young man had been confened to his room for two weeks, following a fall from his bicycle, but he had greatly improved and was sitting up Sunday morning. Later he was seized with lockjaw and died in ten minutes.

The deceased was a bright and manly lad and his grief-tsricken parents will have the tender sympathy of friends in their bereavement. The boy for some time had been connected with the Grand Theatre in the capacity of assistant operator of the moving picture machine. He was also a member of the Sunday School of the First Church of Christ, Scientist.

The funeral was held yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the residence in accordance with the rites of the Christian Science church. Interment was in Oakdale cemetery. The pallbearers, all comrades of the deceased, were Messrs. Ray and William Kelly, Armstead and Louis Dowdy, Charles Hazelhurst and Richard Spooner.

RED CROSS SANITARIUM.

Some of the Work in Wilmington—Among the Incorporators.

Through an error in the telegraphic news from Raleigh, printed in Sunday morning's Star, the name of Mrs. Cuthbert Martin was unintentionally omitted from the list of the incorporators of the Wilmington Red Cross Sanitarium. Mrs. Martin is one of the charter members, has been secretary of the local society for three years and is now its efficient president, which chapter is one of the foremost charitable organizations in the city.

In response to an appeal from the Society in behalf of the Chinese famine sufferers $716.45 was sent through the Wilmington Red Cross; $26 to the Mississippi flood sufferers, together with two boxes of clothing, valued at $300. Plans for the Red Cross Sanitarium are now in the hands of Dr. Livingston Farand, of New York, executive secretary of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis where they will be passed upon by Dr. Carrington, expert on sanitarium construction. The Chapter will commence building as soon as the plans are returned.

Corbett to Julia Wilson, for $100 and other considerations, lot No. 1, in Block 12, Love Grove; Nonie F. King and Mrs. Katie B. Corbett to Scott McLean, for $90, lot 13 in Block 12, Love Grove.

Overcome in the Surf.

While surf bathing at Carolina Beach Sunday, Mr. H. R. Kuhl, an aged citizen of Wilmington, was overcome and was being swept out to sea in semi-conscious condition when he was rescued by several bathers. He was brought to the shore and under the ministrations of Dr. Jas. M. Hall, the druggist, who had some drugs with him, was soon restored to consciousness. Mr. Kuhl came back to the city on the evening boat. His many friends will hope that he will suffer no serious consequences from his unpleasant experience.

THE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Meeting Held at Court House Yesterday Afternoon—Contract for Desks Awarded—Resolution Of Thanks

A meeting of the County Board of Education was held at the Court House yesterday afternoon for the purpose of taking up matters that had been left open from the regular meeting of the board on the preceding Monday. Present were Chairman J. O. Carr and Messrs. Chas. E. Taylor and J. G. L. Gieschen; also Prof. Washington Catlett, superintendent of public instruction, and Mr. Shepard, school commissioner from Middle Sound.

The following resolution was offered and was adopted:

"Resolved, that the Board of Education, on behalf of the people of New Hanover county, tender to Senator F. M. Simmons, Hon. H. L. Godwin and the other representatives in Congress, our thanks for their efforts in securing the passage of an act by Congress donating a part of the Marine Hospital reserve to the board of education of this county, and that a copy of this resolution be sent them."

The question of improvements to certain school houses throughout the county was postponed for several days in order to give the members of the board an opportunity to personally visit the schools and make an examination of their needs.

Superintendent Catlett was directed to advertise for bids for the school house and site in Middle Sound, as the old building and site will be sold and a new building erected on a more central site. Bids will be received at the Court House until July 20th.

Mr. W. A. Lineker again appeared before the board and asked to be reimbursed for money paid by him for the old school house site in district No. 12 in 1909. The board heard the matter fully and decided that it had already been definitely settled, therefore decided not to pay Mr. Lineker the amount the asked for, about $200.

The order for the desks and auditorium seats for the Bear Memorial school was placed with the American Seating Company. Representatives of several companies have been figuring with the board on the matter and the office yesterday was full of samples submitted.

Another meeting of the board will be held in a few days, it is thought, at which time the body will take up the question of improvements to a number of the school houses in the county, following their personal inspection of the schools.

NEW COLD STORAGE PLANT.

Contractors Here Examining Plans and Specifications—Outlook.

In response to advertisement sent out several days ago a large number of contractors are here looking over the plans and specifications for the large cold storage plant which the Independent Ice Co., will erect at Second and Campbell streets, with a view of bidding on the contract when proposals are opened by Chairman Wm. E. Springer, of the building committee. The contractors already interested are from Richmond and Baltimore, while several local contractors will also submit proposals. A big item in the construction will be the insulated compartments for the storage of various products. "Insulation" means cork lined and this will be according to the latest and most modern engineering lines. Several contractors will be here today looking into this feature of the work.

In this connection it will be gratifying to know that this new and important enterprise promises exceedingly well and that already the company is receiving applications for space just as soon as the plant is completed. An official of the company stated yesterday that it is quite likely that the plant will open on the day of its completion with all the business it can take care of from the very start.

Rescued at Lumina

Two young white men, strangers visiting the beach as members of an excursion party, were rescued from the surf in front of Lumina Sunday afternoon after they had become exhausted and were ready to give up. They had made their way out to the reef and had turned and attempted to swim back in when they found that their strength was fast ebbing away. Mr. J. Lutie Criom, who was near, noticed their plight and swam to one of them who appeared to be the weaker of the two, at the same time signalling the life boat, whch was anchored off shore only a short distance away. The boat came up and took the two young men in. They refused to give their names.

New Officers Installed.

At the regular meeting last night the following newly elected officers of Stonewall Lodge, K. of P., were installed: Chancellor Commander, D. G. Vafiadi; Vice Chancellor, R. A. Davis; Prelate, R. S. Parker; Master of Work, T. Y. Morris; Master of Exchequer, C. Murray; Master of Finance, J. D. Kelly; Keeper of Records and Seal, W. C. Smith; Master at Arms, T. E. Davis; Inner Guard, W. C. Owen; Outer Guard, P. L. Page.

SEITTER FARM SOLD

It was learned yesterday from an authoritative source that Mr. J. G. Seitter had sold to Mr. J. L. Williams, of the Wilmington Savings & Trust Co., his valuable farm consisting of a little more than 20 acres on the Wrightsville turnpike and the suburban line of the Tidewater Power Co., for a consideration not made public. The farm was once owned by Mr. H. L. Fennell, was later purchased by the Carolina Trucking Development Co., and used as a demonstration farm and has been owned for several years by Mr. Seitter. It is understood that the property will be developed into a first-class suburban village.

STREET WORK BEGINS.

South Fourth Street to be Improved With Bitumen-Concrete.

The Streets and Wharves Department, in charge of Councilman P. Q. Moore, has decided to improve Fourth street, from Wright to Greenfield, a distance of about half a mile, with bitumen-concrete and the contract has been let by the department to the McQuire Construction Company, of Norfolk, Va., which firm has the contract for improving Fifth street and has its machinery already here. Mr. James F. Wrenn, vice president and general manager, is quoted as saying that he expected to begin the new contract yesterday or this morning and that he would have it completed in about four weeks. It will be recalled that recently Council decided to improve this thoroughfare for the Suburban Development Co., in return for about 22 acres of land, some of which borders on Greenfield Lake, which is to be used for municipal purposes.

Tips of Fingers Mashed Off

Conductor E. L. Smith, of the Tidewater Power Company, on belt car No. 19, while turninig a switch at Ninth and Princess streets last night about 9:30 o'clock, had the fingers of one of his hands badly bruised, the end of the thumb and two fingers being cut off. He was brought to Jarman & Mintz's drug store and attended by Dr. J. C. Wessell, who later took him to his office and dressed his wounds. The many friends of Conductor Smith will hope that he will soon be entirely recovered from the effects of the painful accident.

WOODROW WILSON MARRIED NATIVE OF SAVANNAH, GA.

Many friends and acquaintances of Governor Woodrow Wilson, Democratic nominee for President, in this city and section, will read with interest the following from Sunday's Savannah Morning News relating particularly to Mrs. Wilson, who very probably will become the mistress of the White House: "Savannah people are naturally much interested in the probability of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson's becoming mistress of the White House, and her old friends and acquaintances here are recalling what they remember of her girlhood and marriage. Her visit here last Spring, when Mrs. Palmer Axson entertained for her with an afternoon reception to which about 150 guests were asked, gave Savannah people a very agreeable opportunity to meet Mrs. Wilson, and although on that occasion a late train and Gov. Wilson's address at the Savannah Theatre combined to make Mrs. Wilson's presence at the reception a matter of only a few moments instead of the hour planned, many took advantage of it.

"As a matter of fact, except for visits here, very little of Mrs. Wilson's girlhood was spent in Savannah. Her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Axson, lived first in Madison and then for a number of years in Rome, Ga., where Rev. Mr. Axson had a church, and until their death most of her time was spent in Rome. She had an aunt, her mother's sister, living in Gainesville, with whom she made her home after the death of her parents. She was accustomed, however, to make long visits to her uncle, Mr. Randolph Axson, and her grandfather, Rev. Dr. I. S. K. Axson, in Savannah, and preferred to be married here, in her parents' old home, and so that her grandfather, Dr. Axson, might perform the wedding ceremony. As it took place in the Summer many intimate friends and family connections who are still living in Savannah were out of the city.

"Mrs. Wilson's only close relatives here are the children of her father's brother, Mr. Randolph Axson, and at present Mr. B. Palmer Axson is the only one living in Savannah. Mr. Randolph K. Axson, another son, and the Misses Leila and Carrie Belle Axson, live in Atlanta, and Mrs. Legare Walker, who bears the same name as Mrs. Wilson, 'Ellen Axson,' lives in Summerville, S. C. Mrs. Randolph Axson, Sr., was a Miss Law, a sister of Mrs. Charles Edmondston, of Savannah, and the late Mrs. Thomas C. Clay.

"The account of the marriage of Miss Axson and Mr. Wilson appeared in the Morning News Thursday, June 26th, 1885. In those days there was no society column and the notice, which is just twelve lines long, was printed among the 'Local Personals' on the local page, between an item of the return to Savannah of a former resident, 'now a prosperous wagon manufacturer of Atlanta,' and a list of arrivals at the Pulaski House. It reads as follows:

"'Miss Ellie Lou Axson, daughter of the late Rev. Edward Axson, of this city, and Mr. Wilson, son of Rev. J. R. Wilson, of Wilmington, N. C., were married last evening at the residence of Rev. I. S. K. Axson, pastor of the Independent Presbyterian church. The ceremony was performed by the groom's father and the bride's grandfather. The nuptials were celebrated quietly, only the immediate friends and relatives of the contracting parties being present.'

"Mrs. Wilson made a longer visit to Savannah than her more recent one when she accompanied her brother, Prof. Stockton Axson, of Princeton, here about four years ago. Prof. Axson came at the invitation of the Huntingdon Club to give a course of lectures on Shakespeare. He and Mrs. Wilson were here for a week and were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Baldwin."

Owing to the unqualified success of the dance at the Oceanic Hotel last Saturday morning, when a large number of little folks "tipped the light fantastic toe," and as many more fond mothers looked on with admiration, the hotel management has decided to give an event of this kind every Wednesday morning from 10 to 12 o'clock. The second children's dance will, therefore, be given tomorrow a week and it is being looked forward to with the keenest interest and anticipation. These dances are given by Mr. Jesse N. Couch, the popular and genial manager of the hotel, and Mrs. Couch, and the success of the first event last Saturday is due almost entirely to her efforts. All children on the beach, whether they are stopping at the hotel or not, are most cordially invited to attend. It was also announced that every Saturday morning a dance will be given in the Oceanic Hotel ball room to the young people at the hotel and on the beach. This promises to become equally as popular as the children's dances.

And the "Moon went down."

Let it be understood at the outset by the reader—gentle or otherwise—that the above stoic and philosophically uttered statement is not the beginning of a dissertation on the habits or customs of her lunar majesty, but rather has to do with the experience of bright and stellar light in the realm of local gasolinedom, namely, the handsome Moon torpedo car that is the pride of its possessor, Mr. Louis T. Moore, city editor of the Evening Dispatch, whose popularity in the city is probably only exceeded by his popularity with the Summer visitors at Wrightsville Beach. But to get on to

Announcement is made of the appearance at Lumina tonight of Baroness Von Zieber, a prominent prima donna soprano, in a song programme of three numbers. Baroness Von Zieber, as is testified to by numerous press notices from all over the country, is an artist of exceptional ability, and the management of Lumina is to be congratulated on securing her services.

The patrons of Lumina are indeed fortunate in having this opportunity of hearing this remarkable artist, for Baroness Von Zieber, who is known as the "Melba of Vaudeville", has sung in all the large cities of the country. She has gained her musical education under famous teachers in Europe, and has appeared in Grand Opera both in this country and in Europe. She has also made her appearance in concert in most of the leading cities of the United States, touring the country with many famous musical organizations. Some of the organizations with which she has toured are the Royal Kilties Band, Sousa's, Herbert's the Royal Court Band of Vienna.

Baroness Von Zieber has a splendid soprano voice of great dramatic power, which is remarkable for its sweetness and tone. The range of her voice is from low F to high D. So great is the power of her voice, and so skilful is her use of it, that she has been able to score the most brilliant success under the trying conditions of open air performances. On account of her ability in this respect she has gained the reputation of being one of the greatest band concert soloists in the country. Baroness Von Zieber is a large, handsome woman, of fine figure and improsing presence. Her costumes are gorgeous. Baroness Von Zieber, like many other theatrical stars, has the vaudeville field, and is always featured as a headline atraction. She has filled engagements on all the large circuits. Wherever she has appeared her singing has roused the greatest enthusiasm. She has recently filled a long engagement at the famous Million Dollar Pier at Atlantic City. She was engaged especially to introduce lighter, popular ballads from the pen of the well known author, Arthur Garfield Longbrake. The papers of Atlantic City gave her very flattering notices.

At the concert tonight Baroness Von Zieber will sing three pieces, at 9:00, 9:30 and at 10 P. M. The progremme is, "The Nightingale," a waltz aria by John Francis Gildin; "When the Guards Go By," used by King George VII's Royal Guard; and "The Last Rose of Summer," from the opera "Martha."

The song programme will not interfere in any way with the dancing.

BREAK FOLLOWS EARLY RISE

Excited Buying Continued at Opening and Cotton Advanced Rapidly—Prices Later Turned Heavy—Crops.

New York, July 8.—The public continued its exciting buying of cotton again at the opening of today's market and for a time continued to sweep everything before it, prices advancing fully 17 points on leading new crop positions within the first hour. Unloading on a tremendous scale failed to make any impression upon the demand during this time, but being persisted in, and buying the old latter of a long range government forecast of more settled conditions this week in the Central and Eastern belts, gradually supplied the demand, and prices first began to waver and then turned heavy, breaking 23 to 25 points from the highest of the day. While the offerings were mostly from big long in the nature of tremendous profit taking, there was also an extension of bear operations for which the evidently overbought condition of the market was chiefly responsible. It was felt that crop conditions did not justify the 80 point advance that the market has witnessed in less than a week. In other words, the opinion prevailed that the upturn had been largely artificial and would not stand the test of any improvement in Eastern crop conditions. Closing prices of the day were 3 to 8 points lower, with the market steady in tone in response to some improvement in demand in the last few minutes.

The opening was steady and 5 to 9 points higher, following strong English cables and an estimate of 8 per cent. decrease in area by a New Orleans authority. While provisional sentiment was rather against the market this afternoon, it was unquestionably still a very nervous affair, with much depending upon the outcome of weather conditions in the East during the next few days.

Estimated receipts, 1,483 bales, against 3,276 last week, and 1,318 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans, 489, against 560 last year; at Houston, 435, against 360 las year, and at Galveston, 197, against 90 last year.

Spot cotton closed steady. Middling uplands 12.15; do. gulf, 12.40; sales, 400 bales.

Futures closed steady.

STOCKS WEAK AND FEVERISH

Last Week's Bank Statement and Chances of Unfavorable Reports Today Had a Depressing Effect on the Market.

New York, July 8.—Last week's poor bank statement, which uncovered an actual deficit in the reserves and a much larger loss of cash than was expected, and the chances of an unfavorable showing in the monthly statement of the copper producers and the government crop report, both of which are to be issued tomorrow, combined to produce a weak and feverish stock market today.

Prices of the more active shares made an average decline of over two points, with a large part of the selling centering about Amalgamated Copper and United States Steel. Lowest prices were scored in the last hour, but final dealings were marked by some short covering, which helped to produce a feeble recovery.

Ground for apprehension regarding crops was furnished by the July reports of the Middle Western States, none of which was of an optimistic character, while some were quite the reverse. Ohio, for instance, places the wheat condition at 93 against 94 in July of last year, while Illinois reports a corn condition nearly 80 per cent. of normal. One effect of the unfavorable bank statement was a general hardening of rates, both for call and time loans. Much of today's call money was placed at 3 per cent., while all time maturities over three months advanced ⅛ per cent.

The bond market was broader and more active. Total sales, par value, aggregated $2,315,000. United States governments were unchanged on call. Total sales, today, 562,800 shares.

SCHOOLS UNATTRACTIVE

More Than Two-thirds of Pupils Fail To Reach Standard

Chicago, July 6.—The little school house is so "unattractive" that "more than two-thirds of the 12 million pupils in the total public schools fail to reach a high standard in their studies."

That condition was described as a menace to educational progress and as one of the reasons why the country child looks longingly toward the city, in a report submitted to the National Council of Education today. The council met primarily to the opening here on Monday of the 50th annual convention of the National Education Association.

The condition surrounding the traditional "little red school house" were described as so deplorable that the council considered a plan to have the National association employ an expert to investigate and report on rural districts.

E. T. Fairchild, State superintendent of public instruction, Topeka, Kas., and James Y. Joyner, Raleigh, N. C., declared that "the country child is the neglected child and the country school house a neglected school house."

The teaching of scientific farming and fruit growing, with special reference to local conditions were recommended as an incentive to renewed interests in rural education.

"SKYLAND" BEAUTIES.

Some of the Joys of the Mountainous Section of Carolina.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

En Route, Murphy, N. C., July 5.—We are pulling out of Asheville on the track beside the beautiful French Broad. There are quite a number of passengers, this being Fourth of July week. Looking from the car windows the crops seem to be magnificent. Corn green and thrifty; shocks of oats and wheat as thick as Carter's and such fat cattle from which the celebrated mountain beef comes. The mountain cabbage and Kentucky wonder beans are much in evidence. On every hand can be seen the magnificent macadam roads of Buncombe by the sides of which are strung telephone poles. There are some other objects of Nature that grow up with and around and among the mountains—that is, pretty girls at a small station called Candler, where we saw several brace of them and the panorama of fine corn, shocks of oats, with the Balsam Mountains looming up way ahead. Now we see fine orchards and vineyards. We are now climbing up Balsam with steep grades. There are no apples ripe yet except the early June, but the trees are laden with green growing fruit. I have just seen men cradling wheat on the mountain side. The men up here have to have one long and one short leg to brace themselves while swinging the scythe. We are pulling into Canton, a pretty little town with the largest wood pulp plant in the United States. Large quantities of tannery extracts. We note a remarkable absence of the colored man and brother in these parts. For making this extract thousands of cords of chestnut are hauled down the mountain sides. We are traveling parallel with the old Murphy & Asheville Turnpike.

We are now approaching Waynesville, Haywood county, the natural home of the apple and see among the apple trees fair crops of Irish potatoes just in a growing way that will be harvested this Fall.

Hazelwood, a pretty name at the foothills, has a large tannery called the Junaluskee, when the cows stand in the clover with distended udders ready for the dairymaid.

We are now passing through one of Waynesville's largest apple orchards, the fruit from which was sold this season for figures way up in the thousands. Orchards can be seen on every hand. They clear the mountain sides of wood and among the stumps are planted apples and some more apples. We are now skimming along at a rapid rate and can see the rugged mountain tops clad in balsam, chestnut, popular, hemlock. The chestnut is in full bloom. The Hotel Balsam is in a commanding position on top of the mountain and is 3,350 feet above Wilmington. Now we are passing fields of pumpkins and corn and through mountain gorges that look suggestive of "Mountain Moonshine". We are now passing the homes of pure Cherokee Indians. We had long been wishing to see the "beautiful Indian maiden". Alas, our hopes are doomed to a severe disappointment. Near Addie station the first ones are seen. At Sylvia, as its name indicates, a pretty new station with an immense tannery in operation. It is raining and we are in the midst of the clouds.

At Dillsboro some more tanbark granolithic sidewalks, a water mill and some nice church buildings. We have just passed the first tunnel, a long, dark, dreary one, and are now running beside a turbulent mountain stream, Tuckasugee. More Indian shacks are passed. Here we see the first wire suspension bridge. The Southern Railway runs for miles by this beautiful Indian name river. Why? Because there is little grading to be done. We are now in Swain county, passing some very fine farms, notably the Gen. Thomas farm, who made up a company during the war called Thomas' Legion. He was Indian agent of the Cherokees before and during the Civil War. There were many Cherokee Indian soldiers in his command. We are now at a station called Whittier, a beautiful name in a select location. From Elk Station a spur track runs out to Yellow Hill where a government Indian school is mountained at Yellow Hill. We are now at Bryson City where a delightful supper is served. We are just half way to Murphy and the shades of night are falling fast. Dark comes quick in the mountain pass, so good night.

FOR THE THIN AND SCRAWNY.

Samose Will Make You Plump and Rosy Says J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co.

If you are getting thin you are sick, although you may not know it. If you are losing weight steadily, there is something wrong that needs looking after. If you have always been thin it doesn't follow that you are sick, but you may not be healthy. You cannot be strong if you are thin.

Try then to be healthy and plump, it is not difficult if you know how.

The only way to increase the weight and gain health and flesh is by using Samose, the standard flesh forming food, and tissue builder. It mingles with the food you eat and is assimilated so that all the flesh forming and tissue building elements of the food are retained in the system. This explains the great value of Samose.

J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. sells every package on a genuine guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it.

MR. MERCER AGAIN WRITES

Some More Observations of a "Plain Business Man"

Editor Star:—I have intensely enjoyed your numerous editorials of late, discoursing upon our city and section with their abundant natural advantages and resources which lay in such profusion around about us, awaiting the influx of money, brains and brawn to fully develop hese latent potentialities and adapt them to the use of the great population that is bound to come; that is even now locking this way, having been attracted by these natural advantages.

One of the most important subjects treated in your writings is the matter of municipally-owned docks and terminals, at this time, on account of existing conditions. Both the S. A. L., and the A. C. L. railroad companies have spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in the past year or two and are planning to spend much more. Also the extensive cotton compress company, owned by Messrs. Alexander Sprunt & Son, have recently largely increased their warehouse facilities, so that what business is offered to the port can be reasonably well taken care of at present; but what city needs is her own public docks and terminals, municipally-owned and operated. The railroads and Messrs. Sprunt built these docks and increased terminal facilities because they foresee the necessity of them for their own use—so much more the reason why the city should, herself, go ahead, and at once, and provide what she will so surely need; and while she can do so at smaller cost than ever again, on account of the increase in values of all available sites, by reason of the development going on all around us, and which is only the beginning of what will be. Besides the government requires it, if we expect the government to continue to spend money on our river and harbor improvements. How will we do it? Why, by bond issue, of course, to the extent of a million dollars, or more if necessary. It is the only logical way. Other large coast cities north of us and south of us are doing it, because they see the wisdom of it. If we expect to hold our own in competition with other cities, with vastly inferior natural advantages, but which they are supplying with money, brains and energy, what nature failed to give them, we must make the most of our unequaled opportunities by improving them. Great railroad interests are diligently and carefully looking into and examining our splendid advantages, and many of them know vastly more about us than many of us know about ourselves, and are seeking positions of advantage upon the great "Gameboard of Business;" they realize that, as soon as the Panama canal is open to the commerce of the world, they must of necessity, be prepared to handle what traffic is offered, and be in position to solicit more, if they would make the most of their opportunities and we know that that is what they are in business for.

Truly, our city is "waking up," and is beginning to see what her possibilities are. She is moving forward, and making progress, wonderful progress, as compared with her past record. She is making great progress in spite of certain difficulties which hinder her.

Our city greatly needs another thing about which has little has been said, viz: A city plan; a well-thought-out, concrete plan; a plan by which she can work and build. We never saw anyone intending to build a house, large or small, who did not first have a plan prepared. We never saw a contractor undertake to erect a building until he had thoroughly examined and carefully studied the plans and specifications for such building, and the reason for this is obvious! it saves so much tearing up and doing over, which always follows, where work of building is done, without well-prepared plans. Our city should loose no time in having prepared a city building plan, even if she first had to create for the purpose a "plan commission for the city of Wilmington," and this plan commission should be maintained and kept active in its work. Why did the already great city of Chicago recently create her plan commission? Why are other progressive cities large and small, doing the same thing? The answer is plain, they have seen and felt the absolute need of it; and since put into operation, are seeing and feeling the great benefits brought about by it.

To make the most of our opportunities, by the time the Panama canal is finished, we need and must have a deeper channel to the sea; we need the new custom house, one that will be adequate and ample in every way to properly take care of our rapidly-growing commerce; we need to have the intra-coastal canal extended from Beaufort on down our coast and to have it come close to our city; we need to have our various rivers and harbors improved, and in order to secure these benefits by appropriations from the general government, we will need the hearty co-operation of Senator Simmons and Congressman Godwin at Washington. These men by reason of long service, fidelity to duty, honest work and conspicuous ability are paving the way to remain the representatives of our people in the national legislative halls for a long time; because the people see the wisdom of keeping them here. As predicted, the people spoke in no uncertain way at the recent Congressional primary when Mr. Godwin was so flatteringly chosen for another term; and judging from the action of the recent State convention in so strongly endorsing Senator Simmons' splendid record; besides the many other indications of how the people of North Carolina wisely thinking for themselves, Senator Simmons will be chosen to succeed himself by an overwhelming majority. So mote it be.

I did not reply to several criticisms published some weeks ago—relative to my views on the Senatorial situation—because I did not deem these criticisms of myself any answer to the argument set up in the article I had published. I want to say to you, keep up your good work. Pound and pound and pound until we get ample city docks and terminals with which to care for the increased traffic, which will very soon be knocking at our doors, and which will contribute as largely to our growth and prosperity.

OSBORNE ISSUES STATEMENT

Hopes All Good Republicans Will Refuse to Join New Party

Lansing, Mich., July 8.—Governor Chase S. Osborne, of Michigan, in a statement issued late today, expresses the hope that "all good Republicans will refuse to join the malcontents" in the formation of a new party and says those who are not satisfied with Mr. Taft as a Presidential candidate can get what they desire by voting for Woodrow Wilson. The Governor's statement follows:

"I am not inconsistent in the position I have taken that Republicans need not bolt their party and will not be considered as having bolted if they vite for Woodrow Wilson. Many of the most prominent and influential Democrats in the country did not vote for Mr. Bryan.

"They remained Democrats nevertheless, and are all supporting Woodrow Wilson now. I do not think a new party erected upon the jassions of any number of men can live. When those who are righteously angry because of the action of Chicago, come to their senses if they will discover that they are angry at certain men in the Republican party and not the splendid old party itself.

"I wish to re-assert and reemphasize that the issue is as clear as a deep-toned bell. One-half the work necessary to create a new party directed to purify the Republican party will produce ten-fold better results.

"I hape all good Republicans will refuse to join the malcontents in a new party. I do not mean by this that temporary measures should not be taken to present the name of Theodore Roosevelt and to give people an opportunity to vote for him, but whatever steps are taken to do this I hope it will be clearly understood that they are temporary.

"Personally, I am still of the opinion that those who are not satisfied with Mr. Taft can get just exactly what they desire by voting for Woodrow Wilson."

INVESTIGATING WRECK.

Lackawanna Officials Look Into Fourth of July Disaster.

Scranton, Pa., July 6.—The Lackawanna Railroad Company today began an official investigation into the railroad disaster near Corning, N. Y., on July 4th, when two score persons were killed and a half hundred injured. All the members of the train crews summoned to Scranton in connection with the inquiry were examined today and the investigation will be continued next week. The witnesses are being examined behind closed doors.

General Superintendent Rine said that the testimony today corroborated in every detail the findings the company's officials made in their investigation at the scene of the accident. It was shown as was stated, that Flagman Lane went back half a mile with a flag and lit a green fuse and that Engineer Schroeder ran past at least two semaphore signals that were set against him. Flagman Lane, however, it is stated, admits that he did not set a torpedo. It was brought out that the mist on the morning of the accident was not so heavy as to obscure an engineer's view of the semaphores or the green fuse which is supposed to be discernible in a fog.

Engineer Schroeder has not yet given any statement other than that he failed to see the signals because of fog. His whereabouts on the evening of July 3rd and the possibility that he did not go to bed, or if he went to bed that he did not sleep because of the noise on the night of July 3rd, are being investigated by the company officials.

Married Saturday Afternoon.

Miss Hattie Hollingsworth, of Falson, and Mr. C. R. Smith, of Wallace, were happily united in marriage late Saturday afternoon, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. A. D. McClure, pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church. It is said that there was objection on the part of the bride's parents on account of her age, which, one account has it, is only 16, while another is that she is over 18. The license was issued by Deputy Register of Deeds Horne Saturday afternoon. Yesterday morning a telegram was received by the Register of Deeds from the mother forbidding the issuance of the license. It was too late, however.

Last year in North Carolina, whooping cough killed fifteen times as many children as scarlet fever, five times as many as measles, and almost twice as many as diphtheria, measles, and scarlet fever combined.

VERIFY IT

The Proof is in Wilmington, Almost at Your Door.

The public statement of a Wilmington citizen s in itself strong proof for Wilmington people, but confirmation strengthens the evidence.

Here is a Wilmington citizen who testified years ago that Doan's Kidney Pills relieved sick kidneys and now states the cure was permanent. Can any sufferer from kidney ills ask better proof? You can investigate. The case is right at home.

Miss Maggie Rivenbark, 105 Dock St., Wilmington, N. C., says: "You are welcome to continue the use of my former public endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills, for they gave me lasting benefit. I value this remedy highly in return for what it did for me. There was a constant, dull pain in the small of my back and some days I could hardly get about the house. The kidney secretions bothered me and I had but little strength or energy. I used several tonics and remedies, but nothing gave me relief until I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, which were procured at Bellamyn's Drug Store. They proved to be just what I required, and it did not take them long to make me well."

WRIGHTSVILLE BEACH

the story. Last Saturday afternoon Mr. Moore, accompanied by Mr. Arthur B. Williams, of this city, and Mrs. Harry Anderson and Miss Rosalie Davis, of Atlanta, guests at the Seashore Hotel, Wrightsville Beach, was out in the Moon for an afternoon spin.

In the course of their ride the party drove out to Oakdale cemetery, and it was here that trouble came upon them. The road at the northern end of the cemetery, on the west side, had been newly improved and under the weight of the car the loosely packed dirt at the edge gave way. Then it was that the "Moon went down," plunging to the bottom of a steep embankment, though fortunately for the occupants remaining right side up. After ascertaining that no one was injured Mr. Moore hurried to the nearest telephone and sent in a hurry call for succor and assistance. This arrived in the form of an ancient and antiquated mule, accompanied by several men, and after the mule had been duly attached to the car and persuaded by the application of a stout sapling that his proper vocation in life was to pull, the Moon rose once more. The car was not damaged and the party proceeded to drive to Wrightsville Sound, where they took the suburban car for the beach.
